

Monday Message - 4/29/24 from Mrs. Van Wagoner

Good Morning,

We have a lot going on at DLMS this week. First of all, there is no school for students on Wednesday (5/1) for teacher professional development. Tomorrow (4/30) and Thursday (5/2) we have M-Step testing. On top of that, this week is Spirit Week to celebrate the annual DLMS Cancer Walk that takes place on Friday (5/3).

Since we have several days of adjusted schedules this week, we are only planning on covering a couple of topics in world history. First, we will finish exploring the additional pieces of evidence historians might find/use to corroborate our current understanding of why Christians chose to participate in the Crusades. Secondly, we'll learn about the events that unfolded when the Crusaders conquered Jerusalem during the First Crusade from both Christian and Muslim perspectives.

The supporting questions and topics we will be covering this week's are:

- How might corroborating evidence help a historian develop a deeper understanding of Christian motivations to fight in the Crusades?
- What happened when Crusaders entered Jerusalem during the First Crusade?

Please remember that you can view this week's homework here. If your child is absent they will need to get caught up through Google Classroom. At the end of each day I upload an instructional video and materials. The video will walk students through everything they need to complete in order.

Have a wonderful week,

Veronica Van Wagoner
